This vertical detail from a manuscript depicts a celestial scene. At the top, two angels with golden halos and dark wings are shown; the upper angel plays a stringed instrument, while the lower angel plays a wind instrument. They are seated on a large, billowing white cloud. Below the clouds, a bright sun with a faceted face and radiating rays is visible. The background is a dark field filled with a dense pattern of small, stylized white flowers. At the bottom of the panel, a vibrant rainbow arches over a dark, rocky landscape.
