whereas it is demanded, now that Bishop P. Apollinaris says that it is his and his people's practice to do so.
It follows therefore that he is justified in not doing so, as he is not bound by the command of the Lord Jesus Christ, who said, "If any man will sue you for your coat, let him have also his cloak." And if he asks for his coat, let him have it also. Now, if he asks for his coat, let him have it also.
