

Sept. 155.

The above is a copy of the original paper, which was found in the possession of the late Mr. J. H.
 Smith, who had been in the service of the British Government at Calcutta, and was one of the first persons who introduced the system of printing in India.
 It is now deposited in the Library of the Asiatic Society, and is preserved as a valuable relic of the early history of the press in our country.
